The undersigned thanks Examiners Banh and Colilla for the time and courtesies extended during the telephone interview on 09 September 2009. The latest Amendment and the accompanying arguments were discussed, particularly how the addition of the recited photoconductor distinguishes the claimed invention from the applied prior art references. The Examiners indicated the rejections would likely be withdrawn, and that a new search would be needed. No agreement on any allowable subject matter was reached.

Respectfully submitted,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'MDS', with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.
